Parent Chronicles

I've to thank the School Head and the PRM personally. When we went to enquire about Child Care, the PRM helped us well. She took initiative and personal care to fasten our joining process (as we wanted to join our baby soon). In the transition period the School Head was so kind and generous, she helped us lot to take care of our baby and settle her in.

The Chairman's Note

Dear Parent,

Each edition of our newsletter is a celebration of our children, teachers, and the learning community we are privileged to nurture together. In this issue, we revisit the heart of our philosophy - the Reggio Emilia approach - where every child's voice, curiosity, and creativity guide the learning journey. Our teachers continue to grow as lifelong learners themselves, engaging in refresher training to bring fresh perspectives and innovative ideas into the classroom.

We take immense pride in the accomplishments of our alumni, like young Aarna Gautam, who has blossomed into a published author at just fifteen - a beautiful reminder of how early experiences shape lifelong confidence and expression.

As you read about the many events and activities that filled our school with laughter and learning, we thank you for your continued trust and partnership in making extraordinary beginnings possible every day.

Warm regards,
Dr. Arun Arora, Chairman

Teacher Training - Critical Role of Time Management in the Classrooms

Refresher trainings play a vital role in re-energizing teachers, strengthening their skills, and offering fresh perspectives that enhance both personal well-being and classroom practice. As part of our Mid-Year Refresher Training, we dedicated a session to the well-being of our teachers, facilitated by Ashrita Lokhande from the ZenYogaShala. The session included gentle body alignment practices and breathwork to improve posture and bring calm, guided meditation to reduce stress and build patience, and sound healing with Tibetan bowls for deep relaxation. These practices aimed to enhance emotional resilience, provide practical mindfulness tools, and support teachers in managing stress effectively, both personally and within the classroom environment.

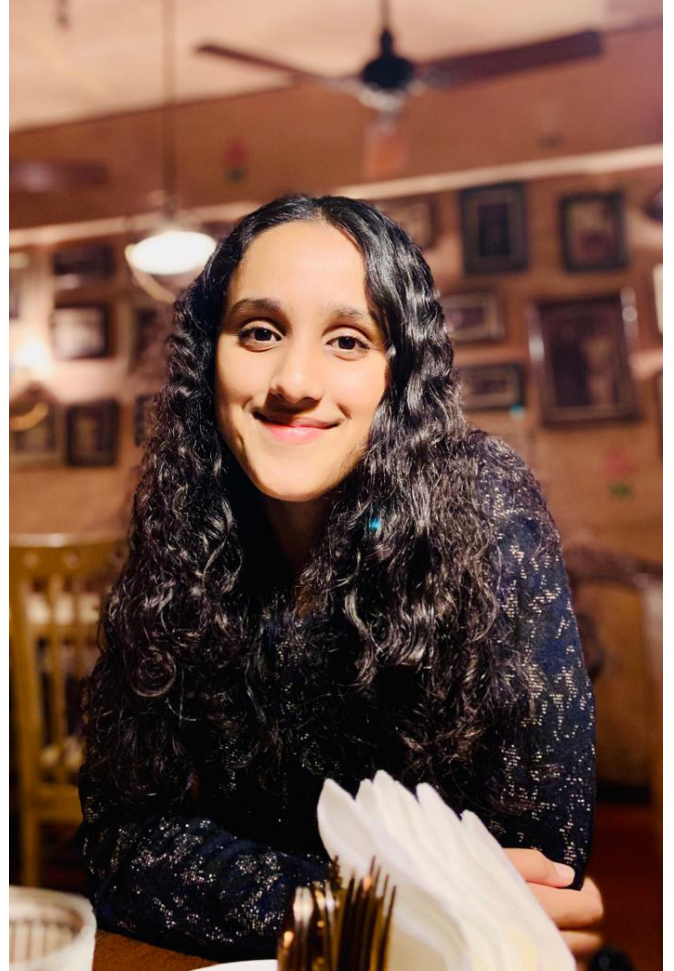

Alongside wellness, the refresher focused on academic growth and pedagogical development. Teachers engaged in workshops on time management, ensuring smooth classroom transitions and efficient use of teaching time, and explored strategies for meaningful parent communication. Sessions on Reggio-inspired practices encouraged making learning visible and inquiry-based, while brain development in early years aligned teaching strategies with developmental milestones. Additionally, grade-wise collaborative discussions allowed teachers to reflect, share best practices, and co-create innovative solutions. The training provided a holistic platform for teachers to recharge, gain clarity, and return to their classrooms with renewed purpose.

Then (2011 - Vivero Powai)

Now (2025 - Age 15)

We're thrilled to shine a spotlight on one of our preschool stars who has grown into an extraordinary young talent! A former student of our preschool (Vivero, Powai), Ms. Aarna Gautam, who at just 15 years old, has achieved an incredible milestone - she's now a published author!

The journey began with us. We fondly recall her curious laughter, creative doodles, and boundless energy from her preschool days. Little did we know those early sparks of imagination would fuel such an astonishing achievement.

Aarna's debut book, Between the Light and the Lost, is a testament to her creativity and determination. This captivating work features a series of short narrations beautifully expressed through poetry that will surely resonate with young readers and beyond.

Words from Aarna: "I didn't realise that I had embarked on a journey and ended it without ever knowing where I'd brought myself. Those are the most wonderful kinds of journeys, in my opinion."

We're overjoyed! It's heart-warming to see how early foundations nurture dreams. Aarna's story inspires us all - proving that with passion and perseverance, young minds can achieve wonderful things.

Congratulations, Aarna - we celebrate your accomplishment and can't wait to see what the future holds for you!

Event Report

Independence Day

This Independence Day, Vivero schools across the country came alive with the spirit of patriotism and togetherness. The campuses were adorned in the colors of the tricolour, echoing the pride and joy of our nation’s journey. Children participated in a variety of activities - from flag hoisting and singing patriotic songs to creative art projects and storytelling sessions that highlighted the values of freedom, unity, and responsibility.

Our little learners, dressed in hues of saffron, white, and green, celebrated the day with enthusiasm and curiosity, engaging in conversations about the meaning of independence in their own lives. The celebrations were a beautiful reminder of how even the youngest members of our community can embrace the essence of being proud citizens of India

We are happy to share the highlights and triumphs of the "Hundred Languages of Learning and Friendship," a unique occasion that honoured the value of forming new connections and the thrill of early learning. The event provided a glimpse of the positive outcomes of our teaching learning methods that promote friendship, kindness, and empathy among the children, while also highlighting the importance of communication, self-expression and social-emotional development.

Children had a wonderful time celebrating this day with their buddies exploring activities and laying the foundation for strong friendships and positive relationships in the future.

Teachers' Day Celebration - A Heartfelt Tribute

Teachers' Day was celebrated with great joy and warmth across all Vivero schools. Children and the parents expressed their love and gratitude through songs, handmade cards, and heartfelt messages.

The morning was filled with warmth, appreciation, and thoughtful gestures that left our teachers deeply touched. Parents expressed their heartfelt gratitude and love through a beautifully curated celebration that reflected their respect for the dedication, patience, and care shown by the teaching team every single day.

The celebration was a beautiful blend of emotion and joy, where teachers felt truly valued and cherished. It reinforced the spirit of partnership between home and school - one built on trust, collaboration, and mutual respect.

Celebrating Literacy Week at Vivero

Literacy is much more than reading and writing - it's about sparking imagination, building confidence, and discovering new worlds. At Vivero, we celebrated International Literacy Day with a week full of joyful engagements that brought stories to life in creative and meaningful ways.

Children explored storytelling through story baskets, enjoyed the magic of shadow play, listened to tales in the garden, and even dressed up as their favorite book characters. Special moments included grandparents reading aloud in classrooms, parents sharing stories, and discovering the wonder of a cozy book nook or even learning how to read a newspaper.

The week highlighted how literacy grows stronger when families and communities join in. It was a celebration filled with laughter, imagination, and the timeless joy of stories.

Dandiya Beats

The festive spirit of Navratri came alive as Vivero celebrated Dandiya Beats with great enthusiasm and joy. Children, parents, and teachers came together, dressed in vibrant traditional attire, to immerse themselves in the rhythm of 'garba' and 'dandiya' beats.

What made the evening truly special was the wholehearted participation of parents, and grandparents, dancing alongside their children and creating an atmosphere of warmth, laughter, and togetherness. The celebration not only brought the school community closer but also reflected the essence of Vivero philosophy-where learning extends beyond classrooms through shared experiences with families.

Ganesh Chaturthi Celebrations

At Vivero, the spirit of Ganesh Chaturthi came alive with joy, creativity, and learning. The celebrations were a delightful blend of tradition and togetherness, as children across grades participated in a range of festive activities.

While some children crafted decorations, while others made delicious festive treats like 'modaks'. Our pre-nursery learners enjoyed a lively 'toran' making activity that strengthened their fine motor skills, encouraged creativity, and introduced them to festive symbols and colours. And the older children explored early math and science concepts through measuring ingredients, counting, and understanding textures while making sweet treats.

The celebration was not only about fun. It was also a meaningful opportunity for children to express themselves, work collaboratively, and appreciate the beauty of our cultural traditions. The school was abuzz with laughter, music, and festive spirit, making it a truly memorable celebration.

Eliminate E Waste

Staying true to our philosophy of shaping responsible global citizens, children at school were introduced to the concept of how each one of us can contribute to eliminating e-waste.

To deepen their understanding, we entered into a meaningful collaboration with Croma, Hiranandani Gardens, as part of our ongoing commitment to sustainability-because we believe in nurturing not just curious minds, but responsible ones. Parents supported the initiative wholeheartedly and contributed generously to the drive. Together, we are confident of creating a lasting impact.

To mark the culmination of this green journey, our Kindergarten 1 and 2 children visited the Croma store to hand over the collected items, interact with the team, and learn more about responsible recycling.

The e-waste drive proved to be a valuable learning experience, reinforcing the values of environmental responsibility among our young learners-children who are already making cleaner choices today for a greener tomorrow.

Our preschool buzzed with creativity and imagination as children and parents dived into a joyful Mud & Clay event called 'Mud ,Magic, Memories'.

Mud painting, car track art, sculpture moulding, and pattern magic - curiosity soared and thoughts danced.

Children splashed colors, exploring textures using mud and clay. They rolled wheels of toy cars through mud, crafting playful tracks. Little hands shaped wonders, creativity flowed in designs and shapes. Imagination knew no bounds!

Tactile fun sparked their discovery while teachers brought rhymes alive that was a pure delight to watch and children and parents joined them swaying and singing. Children's laughter echoed as they squished mud and crafted with clay. Parents joined in, sharing smiles and making wonderful memories.

What's the Buzz

Reggio in Practice in the Classrooms

The Reggio Emilia philosophy shapes classrooms where children are recognized as capable, curious, and active participants in their own learning. At Vivero, our facilitators nurture this spirit with care and dedication. Provocations and inquiry-based activities spark wonder, encouraging children to ask questions, explore, and construct knowledge through hands-on experiences. Creative writing, graphic illustrations, and mind maps make their thinking visible, allowing them to connect ideas across subjects. The voices of children are captured through photographs, reflections, and questions, valuing their perspectives and thought processes. Learning corners with loose parts provide open-ended spaces for experimentation, problem-solving, and imaginative play, while documentation boards serve as living narratives that showcase learning journeys, discoveries, and moments of reflection.

Collaboration and peer learning are celebrated, as children share ideas, negotiate solutions, and co-create understanding. Teachers act as co-learners and facilitators, observing, guiding, and extending learning based on children's interests. Every activity and material is thoughtfully designed to inspire curiosity, creativity, and exploration. Through these practices, children develop critical thinking, confidence, and agency while engaging deeply with concepts. Reflection and dialogue are central, helping children articulate thoughts and learn from one another. Our Reggio-inspired classrooms transform learning into a dynamic, responsive, and meaningful journey that honors the uniqueness of every child.

Vivero Parent Testimonials

I must say, Vivero is "school of magic" - what you do to those tiny humans is truly magical!

I am beyond proud to witness Pihu's growth and achievements as she celebrates this milestone on her preschool culmination day. It's amazing to reflect on how much she has learned and blossomed during her time at nursery. Today she was able to confidently demonstrate her understanding of key concepts she has been taught. I was especially proud to see her knowledge of habitats-she could easily name different animals and the environments they live in, and even talk about how each one adapts to its surroundings. Her enthusiasm when discussing animals and nature was truly heart-warming.

The Jolly Phonics program has also played a significant role in her development. She was able to sort the card with pictures to phonetic alphabets and I know this is just the beginning of her literacy journey! When it comes to numbers, she has demonstrated a strong grasp of counting and number recognition. It's incredible to see how far she's come, especially as she now engages in fun counting games and recognizes patterns and shapes with ease.

What's most special to me is how my daughter has developed confidence and a love for learning. Her curiosity and enthusiasm are evident every day, and it's clear that the nurturing environment at school has played a huge role in shaping her into the joyful, eager learner she is today. THANK YOU to all the wonderful teachers and staff for your dedication, patience, and support. We are excited to see what the future holds as she continues her learning journey!

Lots of love & respect!

Ms Sonal Thakkar & Mr Sunil Dhami, Parents of Pihu Dhami

I recently enrolled my child at Vivero International Pre-school and Childcare, and I'm thoroughly impressed! The staff, specially the teachers, are warm, caring, and genuinely invested in the kids' well-being. The center is clean, safe, and engaging, with a variety of activities that promote learning and development through their preschool program.

What I appreciate most is the wholesome care provided, including nutritious meals that are thoughtfully prepared and served. It's a huge relief knowing my child is getting healthy food while they're at the center.

The preschool curriculum is well-structured, and my child has shown significant growth in their social, emotional, and cognitive development. I appreciate the regular updates and communication from the teachers, keeping me informed about my child's progress.

Another highlight was how seamless the enrolment process was, thanks to the partnership with my employer. The enrolment process was managed efficiently, making it stress-free for me to secure a spot for my child.

The center's commitment to creating a nurturing atmosphere is evident in every aspect, from the curriculum to the daily interactions. I highly recommend Vivero International Pre-school and Childcare to any parent seeking a trustworthy and supportive childcare solution that includes a strong preschool program.

Vidya Sagare, Parents of Prayagi Sagare

We're very happy with the care our son receives at this Vivero daycare.

The staff are friendly, well-trained, and always approachable.

One thing that really stands out is the attention to security. The main gate is always securely closed, and the facility is equipped with cameras.

We love the parent communication app that keeps us updated on his daily activities. There are creative activities every day, and the staff even help with heating food.

Overall, we're very happy with the care our son is receiving and would highly recommend this childcare to other families looking for a safe, nurturing, and well-organized place for their children

Amritha, Parents of Arjun Arekkal Rao

So happy we chose Vivero to be the starting step for our son's developmental milestone. The teachers and staff are more of a family to us taking care of my son like their own. Quick Day to day feedback on how he is performing in class in those casual pickup and drops has helped us build a better bond for Vedat. The schools initiative in fun activities like Buddy day, Dandiya Beats and many more has been a great engaging opportunity for us with the staff members. Waiting for my daughter to also be part of this Vivero family
